Falling Walls Lab Budapest calls for talented young researchers and professionals to showcase their most innovative ideas

- Outstanding researchers, entrepreneurs and professionals can as of now apply for the Falling Walls Lab Budapest on 25 May to present their research work in 3 minutes. Applications are due by 24 April.
- In 2017, international Falling Walls Labs take place all over the world and call for the application of Bachelor and Master students, postdocs, young professionals, entrepreneurs and junior professors. Ground-breaking research projects, initiatives, ideas and business models from all disciplines are welcome.
- The winner of every international Falling Walls Lab will be awarded a slot for the Falling Walls Lab Finale in Berlin on 8 November 2017 and a ticket to the Falling Walls Conference on 9 November 2017. In total 100 applicants qualify for the Finale in Berlin. Each finalist will receive the opportunity to present their research work, initiative or business model within three minutes in front of a high-calibre jury from academia, research and business. The three winners receive a cash prize and give their talks again on the grand stage of the Falling Walls Conference on the next day.
- The aim of the Falling Walls Lab is to foster scientific and entrepreneurial innovations and to promote the exchange between outstanding scholars and professionals emerging from different fields of expertise.
- The Falling Walls Lab Budapest takes place on 25 May 2017 at Pázmány Péter Catholic University Faculty of Information Technology and Bionics. Applications can be submitted online until 24 April. The Falling Walls Lab Budapest is hosted by the Pázmány Péter Catholic University and the Hungarian Academy of Sciences and supported by the Falling Walls Foundation.
